

Smart Attachments 1.16.10

Fixed in this release

Introduced a new model for retention of attachment metadata in the database. Please consider that after update to this app version, you will not be able to roll back to older app versions. If you decide to revert to the older version, this may result in the problems with display of attachments in the appropriate categories and cause problems with execution of operations on attachments.

- Updated the database structure for storing attachment metadata which increases the reliability of attachment retention and execution of standard operations.
- Resolved the issue with NPE error that may occur on JIRA instances preserving the project name instead of project ID when performing the upgrade task.
